

ITS DOORS OPENED TO WOMEN.

THEY MAY NOW ATTEND LECTURES AT ST. FRANCIS XAVIER COLLEGE.

The College of St. Francis Xavier, in West Sixteenth-st., has opened its doors to women, for the first time in the history of the institution. The women are on the same plane with the men, except that they cannot take a degree. They may attend the lectures of Father Halpin on ethics and of Father Fox on natural science.

On Monday evening were begun the University Extension and Postgraduate courses. At that lecture a number of women were present. The number was augmented on Tuesday. Many of them were present last evening, when Father Halpin gave a lecture on ethics. Places were reserved in the balcony for women, and they listened with great interest to him.

The course is free to men and women. Lectures on ethics are given on Monday and Wednesday evenings, and on natural science on Tuesday evenings, in the theatre of the college.

LITTLE WENT TO CHARITY

MOST OF THE JUVENILE GUARDIAN SOCIETY'S MONEY SPENT FOR SALARIES AND EXPENSES.

Another hearing in the investigation of the affairs of the New-York Juvenile Guardian Society was held yesterday morning in the office of ex-Senator Lispenard Stewart, No. 54 William-st. The committee of the State Board of Charities were present, and Oscar Craig presided. William C. Davis was the counsel for the Guardian Society, and Peter B. Oiney represented the Charity Organization Society, which instigated the investigation.

William A. May, an expert accountant, was the only witness examined. He has made an examination of the books of the society, and his discoveries justify the investigation. The Rev. Mr. Robertson and his factotum, Miss Gallagher, were not present to hear the evidence of their mismanagement. The expert showed that the total expenditures from January 1 to July 31, 1893, were $1,479.70; only $6.00, or 7 1/2 per cent, had been spent for charitable purposes; $1476 for a special celebration and $176 for special relief. Mr. Robertson's "personal expense" had amounted 22 1/2 per cent, his salary 8 1/2 per cent and the employees' salaries 21 1/2 per cent of the outlay.

The investigation was adjourned to December 6 at 10 a. m.

MRS. W. T. BULL FALLS FROM A CARRIAGE

THE WIFE OF THE EMINENT SURGEON BADLY BRUISED—HIS NERVOUS HORSES HAD JUST BEEN GOT UNDER CONTROL.

A handsome open landau, drawn by a pair of powerful bays, drove swiftly up East Forty-second-st. just before 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, on its way to Central Park. In the carriage was seated Mrs. Bull, better known as Marie Nevins Blaine, and now the wife of Dr. William T. Bull, by her first husband. Mrs. Bull had left Dr. Bull at the New-York Society's Relief Hospital, Lexington-ave., and Forty-second-st., and had then ordered the coachman to drive to Central Park.

Passing Vanderbilt-avenue, the horses, young and nervous, began to rear and plunge with fright. James G. Blaine, the third, yelled to be lifted out, and the coachman accordingly forced the horses over to the sidewalk in front of Joseph N. Galway's grocery store, at the corner of the avenue. There he brought the horses to a standstill. The boy opened the carriage door, jumped out and ran into the store. His mother tried to follow him, but her left foot, stiff from rheumatism, caught in the carriage-step, and she fell with a stunning force to the ground, her forehead striking the pavement.

Policeman Theodore Balke ran to Mrs. Bull's assistance and, lifting her unconscious form in his arms, carried her into the grocery store. Her head was bathed with alcohol, and after a few minutes she revived, and was driven to her home, No. 35 West Thirty-fifth-st. Dr. Bull hurried to the grocery store in response to the message telling him of the accident, and reached the place a minute after the carriage had driven off. Mrs. Bull's left arm and forehead are badly bruised, and this, in conjunction with the shock, will probably confine her to her room for some days.

TRIAL OF EMMA GOLDMAN.

MR. MINTREY'S OPENING SPEECH—DETECTIVE JACOBS TESTIFIES.

The trial of Emma Goldman for the incendiary language at the meeting of the unemployed in Union Square on August 21 was begun before Judge Martine in General Sessions yesterday. Assistant District-Attorney John F. McIntyre conducted the prosecution and the woman was defended by ex-Mayor A. Oakley Hall and Messrs. Douras and Beyer. She wore a yellow rose on her breast.

Most of the day was spent in getting the jury. Mr. McIntyre's opening address was exceedingly forcible. The only witness examined was Detective Sergeant Jacobs, who testified to what the woman said. This is part of her speech:

You want bread, but where will give it to you? No one will give it to you. If you want it you must take it. You do not get it in your own demand, take it by force. Get in into the social revolution.

The capitalists have prepared themselves with the police, who are armed with pistols and clubs. You can defend yourselves with sticks and stones if attacked. The crowd: "We will."

I look you again! Organize and go and demand what you want, and if it is not given, then take it by force. If you take bread alone it will not help you much. Take everything. (The crowd: "She's right; that's all you need to do.") March to the palaces of the capitalists and demand your rights, and if they are not given, then take them by force. You will be exposed to the militia and the police. You must be ready to defend yourselves with sticks and stones. (The crowd: "She's right.") We will! Hurrah for Emma Goldman!"

Then you will have to do what I tell you, or you can go home quietly, lay yourselves down and die of hunger. It is true you are not prepared, while we know that the police are, with weapons, but we also know where weapons are to be obtained. (The crowd: "You bet we do!") We know where to go to get them! We are living in a time when you must act. Now that you know what you have to do, prepare yourselves. May God bless!

The trial will go on to-day.
